EXODUS FROM JUAREZ AGAIN

hold goods. The movers will give no particular reason for getting out of Juarez. It is believed that those who are coming out of Juarez now and who are Mexicans thoroughly accustomed to Juarez troubles, have been quietly told by their "compadres" in arms that there is "something coming off" and that it would be the part of prudence to get out of range.

Arms and Cartridges. Rifles and cartridges are still being distributed to recruits in Juarez. Whether the arms are being smuggled across the river at this point or are part of the shipments received before the port was closed to arms by Col. Steever, is not known.

"We don't believe we will have any trouble in getting all the arms we can pay for," is the way Col. Ponca puts it. As he dismisses a discussion of the action of congress Thursday.

No Protection for Americans. Henry Seggerman, the Juarez customs broker whose warehouses were robbed of $5000 (Mex.) worth of flour by the rebels, and who appealed to Gov. Colquhoun, of Texas, for relief, has arrived at the conclusion that there is no such thing as protection for an American citizen in Mexico. When his flour was taken, Mr. Seggerman wired Gov. Colquhoun, and on Friday received the governor's reply thereto, which follows:

"Your telegram of March 3 was duly received. In it you say that you acted on the advice of president Taft and placed property belonging to you in Juarez in care of the American consul, and that since doing so several thousand pesos worth of flour belonging to you was taken by the insurgents without any protest on the part of the consul. The only remedy I see for you is to appeal directly to the president and ask that the Mexican government be required to pay you for this property."

MEXICO PRAISES ACTION OF U. S. Friendship Shown in Passage of Law Against Filibustering.

Mexico City, Mex., March 15.—The action of the American congress and the prompt issue of president Taft's proclamation concerning the prohibition of the shipment of arms from the United States into Mexico is regarded by Mexican officials as the highest possible proof of Washington's friendship.

Manuel Calero, the Mexican foreign minister, today cabled on behalf of president Madero an expression of Mexico's gratitude, addressing the dispatch to senator Elihu Root.

President Madero said that with the shipment of arms stopped the next four weeks would see great progress made toward quelling the revolution.

DRUNKEN MEXICANS THREATEN TROUBLE

Americans Near Charleston Ask Closing of Saloons to Stop Disturbances.

Tombstone, Ariz., March 15.—Phil Taylor of Charleston, who has been acting as watchman for the Pittsburg and Arizona Gold and Copper Mining company for the past year, is here and states that during the past week or ten days the Mexican laborers employed on the Lewis Springs Fairbanks claim have been causing a number of disturbances along the line and have made a number of threats against the Americans on account of the report that the American troops were going into Mexico. He states that the Americans have armed themselves and on several occasions trouble has been narrowly averted. The Mexicans visit the saloons at Charleston run by Maria Gallego and buy whisky by the gallon and carry it to the various camps and then start trouble, fighting and carousing all night. He brought with him a petition asking the board of supervisors to take some action in regard to closing the saloons so that a stop may be put to the Mexicans securing liquor at that place.

The board will not be in session until the fifth of April but the filing of the petition against the saloon will stop the issuance of the license which becomes due on the first of April.

There has been some feeling at the Lewis camp between the Mexicans and the Americans since the shooting of a Mexican a few weeks since by timekeeper Sands, of which charges he was exonerated, but this did not satisfy the Mexicans and they have continued to keep trouble brewing and making threats of various kinds, but so far have failed to make any effort to carry them into effect.

Steps will be taken to have an officer or two appointed to look after the disturbing element until the saloon can be closed, after which it is thought that there will not be any further trouble. The only time that the Mexicans become unruly there is when they are under the influence of liquor. There are some 200 Mexicans employed on the work, and only about 50 Americans so that should a race riot start it is feared that the Americans would have a little the worst of it as they are scattered all along the work while the Mexicans are more or less together.

BEIZZARI CAUSES TRAFFIC TROUBLE

Chicago Has Worst Storm of the Season; Kansas Roads Tied Up.

Chicago, Ill., March 15.—A snowstorm amounting almost to a blizzard raged here throughout last night and still continues, with the prediction from the weather bureau that it will last throughout the day, with falling temperature.

The snow came in with a driving west wind yesterday at noon and street car companies since have had sweepers running on their lines at intervals of about 20 minutes. Early today it was impossible for one to see more than 100 yards ahead in the streets. Street, steam and elevated railways were compelled to move their traffic with especial care during the rush hours of the morning. No serious accidents were reported during the early hours.

Telegraph companies became distressed. It was reported by them that the worst conditions of the winter prevailed.

The Santa Fe was again blocked in western Kansas by snowstorms and high wind that prevailed last night and early today. The road expects to resume traffic tonight. The Missouri Pacific also was blocked in eastern Colorado and western Kansas.

TOO MUCH GOLF AND AUTOMOBILING

Minister Says Sunday Pleasures Are Hurting the Church.

"Achanism in the Camp" was the subject of Dr. Bishop's sermon at the first Presbyterian church Sunday night. The discourse was based upon the account in Joshua, seventh chapter, where the Israelites were defeated at Ai after their signal victory at Jericho. Joshua was greatly discouraged and said to the Lord: "Wherefore hast thou brought me down here? I have told thee, 'The Lord said unto Joshua: 'Get thee up, wherefore best thou upon thy face? Israel has sinned, and taken of the accursed thing.' It was at last discovered that Achan had taken of the spoils. Achan's sin could not stand before his enemies. Achan acknowledged his sin, the camp was purged, and he was at last taken.

"The trouble with the church today," Dr. Bishop said, "is that there is too much Achanism in the camp. No wonder there is so little progress, and the pastors of the flock become discouraged. Achanism manifests itself in various ways. Covetousness on the part of church members hinders the growth of the church."

Dr. Bishop's denunciation on the part of professing Christians was spoken of. Dr. Bishop said: "It is almost too bad to say. The church is full of covetousness. The church members will forsake the house of God and spend the day in automobile, golfing, picnicking and the like. And the boards. He said: 'The subject tonight will be: "What is the usual musical service will be held in connection with the meeting. The church choir sang, "Jesus, Savior Pilot Me."
